Your humble loving hands

Soothing voice, assuring smile

Carried us through our days

A legacy you leave behind

as the men we are today

So proud of you we are,

You raised us with such poise

You loved us more than anything

We are so glad to be your boys

You always knew the secret

Of what life is about

Experiencing first hand

This world that God laid out

But the most memorable of all
The time we spent together
Your loving sons, Eric and Paul
Sleep tight mom, rest well
